A Company Dedicated to the Success of Your Financial Appeal

Brandt-Semenza is a firm which concentrates its efforts on providing a personalized quality service. We undertake your appeal as if it were our own financial and public relations problem. We have a staff of experienced men and we intend to remain a small organization. We want to know our clients and we also want them to know us. To this end, our staff works as a team. You can be assured we are interested in what we do — for you.

Understanding people in relation to their religion and their environment is our forte. Those we serve, and have served repeatedly, are from such diverse backgrounds as the French-speaking northern New Englanders to the Indians and Spanish-speaking people of the Southwest. We help individuals from all walks of life to appreciate the needs of their church or of their community.

Since it was founded in 1958, Brandt-Semenza has planned and conducted every appeal to suit the unique circumstances and requirements of each individual client. Mass produced "canned" materials are never used in our presentations and publicity programs. Our purpose is to help prospective donors identify themselves with the needs and objectives of the particular appeal. We feel this motivates people to contribute willingly and generously in proportion to their means.

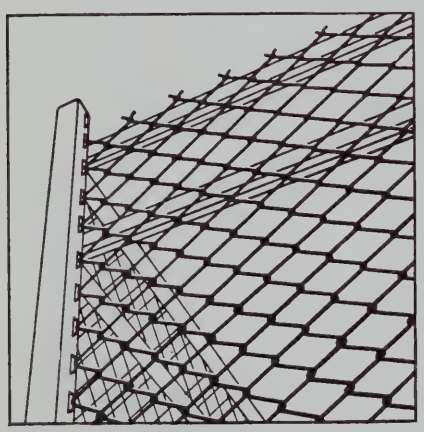
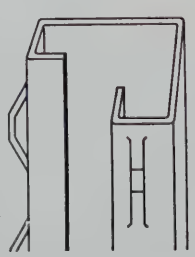
USS Cyclone...the best protection against vandals and thieves



Protect Church Property

Keep children safe while playing in parochial playgrounds. Keep church property safe from vandals and thieves. Use CYCLONE Fence, the world's best and most widely used security fence.

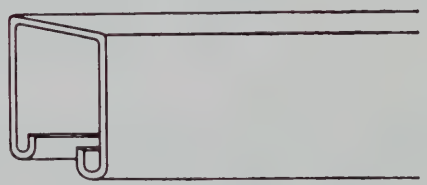


USS Cyclone Type II

a breakthrough in fence design

The new design of CYCLONE Type II makes it better looking, more functional, stronger, and easier to maintain. Because it has fewer parts, fewer nuts and bolts, it is more difficult to climb (no handholds or footholds), more difficult to take apart, and has a smart, modern appearance.

The terminal post



The stronger, neater, one-piece terminal post is self-draining and self-ventilating, thus preventing corrosion of the interior surfaces. The chain link fabric is woven, not bolted, into lock loops on the terminal post. Each loop along the entire length of the post has 1200 pounds holding power. Rails and braces are rigidly attached and stay snug.

The line post

Designed like a beam, the solid H-column line post keeps the fence rigid and straight, has no inside surfaces to corrode, and makes a tight bond with concrete. The standard H-post weighs 2.7 lb/lin. ft. and is stronger than 2⅜ in. OD pipe. The H-post is also available at 4.1 lb/lin. ft.

The top rail

The square configuration of the top rail is more functional, provides greater strength, and has a crisp appearance. It helps give CYCLONE Type II a clean, "architectural" look.

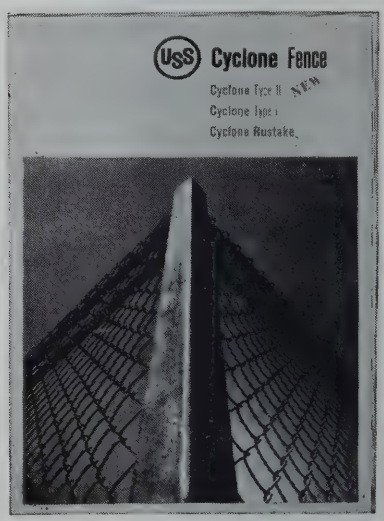
USS Cyclone Type I

the original

This is the familiar CYCLONE chain link fence with tubular terminal posts and rails and solid H-column line posts. It is the most widely used chain link fence in the world. The only fence that surpasses it in beauty, design and easy maintenance is the CYCLONE Type II.

USS Cyclone Rustake

the fence within a fence



RUSTAKE is a protective and decorative fence all in one. It is a combination of tough CYCLONE chain link fabric and handsome durable California redwood vertical strips. RUSTAKE offers a combination of durability, rustic beauty, and privacy unmatched by any other fence system.

Availability

All three types of USS CYCLONE steel chain link fence are available in different styles and heights. You may specify either aluminum-coated or galvanized steel fabric. The aluminum coating lasts 3 to 5 times longer than galvanized, and minimizes future maintenance.

The Confessionaire

The 'Confessionaire' helps hard-of-hearing penitents avoid the embarrassment of being unable to hear and respond to the priest who is trying to help them. Others may avoid the confessional entirely because of such difficulties. The 'Confessionaire' is an uniquely designed hearing device that works this way: Its extremely sensitive microphone picks up the necessarily low voice level of the priest and relays it clearly to the ears of the penitent, who then hears the whispered words distinctly. Even those with normal hearing appreciate the added convenience of the 'Confessionaire'.

As easy to use as a telephone, all-transistorized 'Confessionaire' Model S-184 can be mounted to left, right, or above panel opening, and plugs into any standard 110 V. a.c. outlet. Write or call us today for information on other models and accessories:

Thomas More Meditapes: cassettes for contemporary christians

WELCOME (M105)

by John Egan and Eugene Kennedy

A set of six one-hour (approx.) cassettes which are intended for use by those who have expressed interest in becoming Catholics or in finding out more about the church. Priests charged with instructing potential converts will find this unique program invaluable because it frees them from needless repetition of material and saves their time for essential personal contacts and discussion of particular problems or topics. Monsignor John Egan is the former director of the Cana Conference and the Office of Urban Affairs of the Archdiocese of Chicago who is presently on the faculty of the University of Notre Dame. Father Kennedy is a nationally known psychologist, counselor and author of many popular and influential books. The program has been carefully designed not only to provide essential information about Catholicism but to create a psychological framework and atmosphere which will help to make the inquirer feel genuinely welcome.

(6 hours) $49.50

REFLECTIONS ON A PRIESTHOOD FOR OUR TIME (M19)

by Andrew Greeley

The noted priest-sociologist Andrew Greeley (who directed the recent NORC survey of American priests for the National Conference of Catholic Bishops) devotes these six cassettes to a brilliant working out of the role of the priest in the "new" Church in terms of a relationship through which both priest and laity will feel comfortable and further, a framework for a really effective ministry will be provided. At the moment, Father Greeley insists, the people are pleading for priests who will really preach the gospel to them and the priests, confused and torn between the new activism and uncertainties about their role, can't hear them.

Trend Is Toward "Feasibility Studies"

MORE AND MORE dioceses and institutions are recognizing the benefits of a pre-campaign FEASIBILITY STUDY—confidential interviews and on the scene research by experts who analyze all elements from a fund raising standpoint to determine whether your proposed plans or "Case for Additional Revenues" prove to be the most productive course of action. Your "case" is evaluated, sources of support are probed, problems are pinpointed and a "master plan" is developed. This type of Study avoids any "false starts" that can prove quite costly once a program is officially inaugurated. WRITE OR CALL for further information on a Feasibility Study, obtainable at a relatively minor cost.

FOLDING PARTITIONS and WARDROBES provide flexibility in the unique "School in the Round"

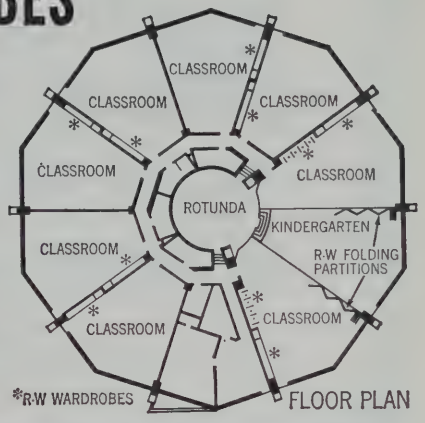

Photo illustrates effective use of R-W Folding Partitions and Wardrobes in the Our Lady of Good Counsel School, Chicago, Illinois. Architects: Kefer and Cronin, A.I.A., Chicago, Illinois.

This school graphically illustrates a fresh and vital approach to elementary school design. One of the outstanding features of the design is the flexibility provided by the R-W Folding Partitions used to separate three classrooms and the stage. This provides a multi-purpose area that can be used for classrooms, for large assembly groups or as an auditorium for special events. R-W Wardrobes were utilized in each classroom to provide practical storage facilities.

This school provides a classic example of how modern design concepts are best achieved with R-W Folding Partitions—a time-proven product.

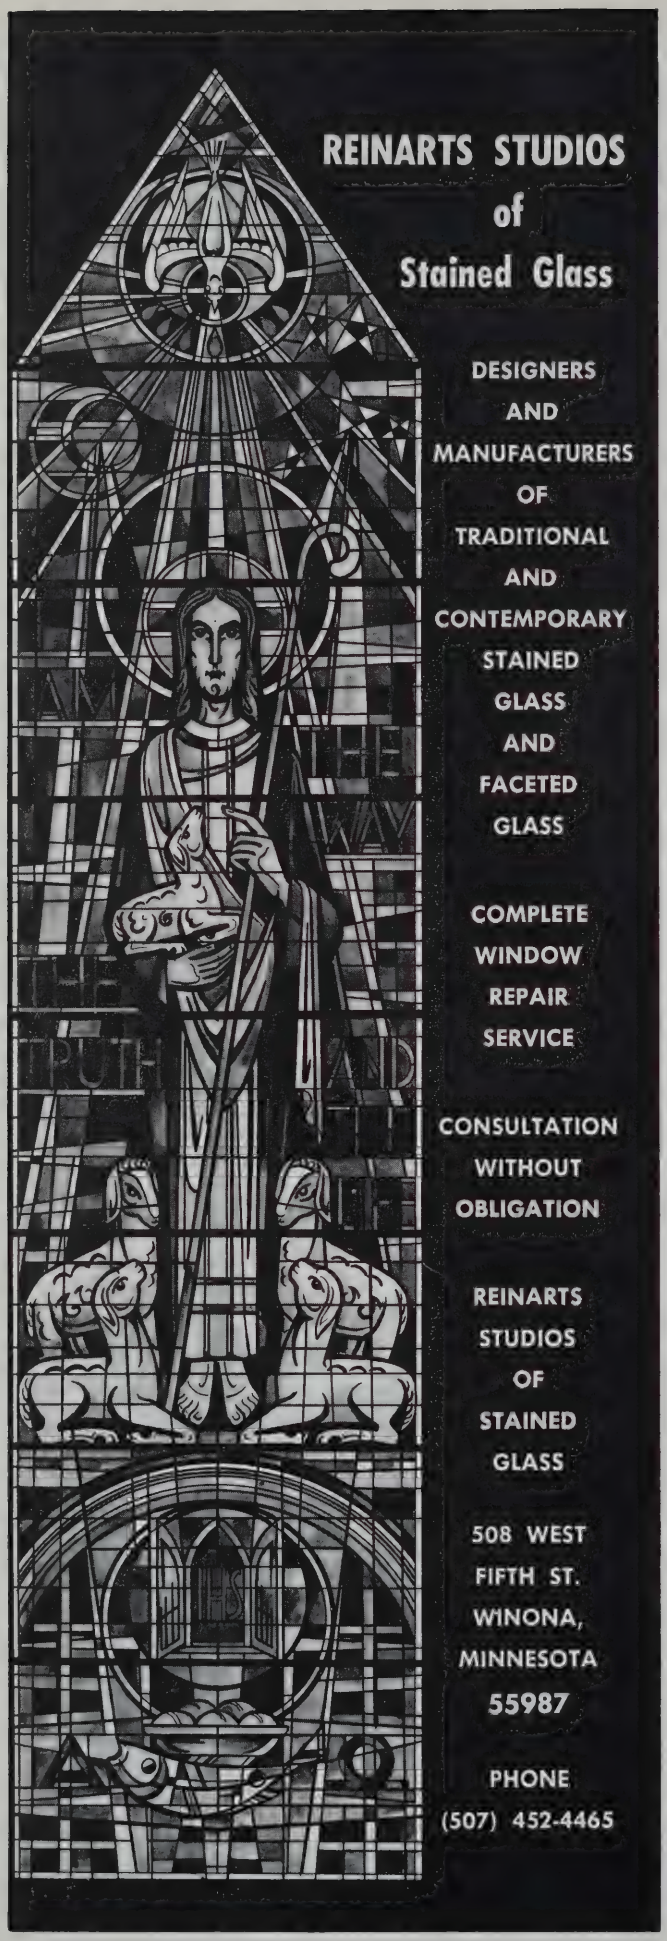
The definitive Catholic reference of our time

The NEW CATHOLIC ENCYCLOPEDIA



This monumental reference work—far greater in scope, timeliness, and significance than any other Catholic publishing project in this century—was created specifically to bring the teachings of the Church into closer contact with contemporary needs. In fifteen handsome volumes, the New Catholic Encyclopedia offers complete and authoritative information on every aspect of the life and work of the Roman Catholic Church. Not only does it cover the doctrine, organization, and history of the Catholic Church from its earliest antecedents to the reign of Pope Paul VI, but it also examines the philosophies, religions, institutions, persons, and developments that have affected Catholicism in the past and are of profound concern today.

Sponsored by the Bishops of the United States and dedicated to His Holiness Pope Paul VI, this magnificent work contains fully 17,000 articles written by 4,800 specialists throughout the world. In all, there are more than 15,000,000 words, and 7,500 superb illustrations, providing a virtual "gallery of art"—ranging from the great painting and sculpture of the past centuries to portraits of renowned Catholic leaders. Also included are some 300 original maps, and 100,000 bibliographic citations unmatched in their thoroughness.

Published by McGraw-Hill Book Company in cooperation with The Catholic University of America, this extraordinary work is the most complete and definitive reference of its kind ever published—for the classroom, the library, or the church. Ash Wednesday, 1973

"Remember, man, you are dust, and unto dust you shall return."

Mrs. Marie McKee, a 98-pound mother of seven in Bedford, England, pulled a 12-ton truck 50 yards by her teeth. She said the did it for women's lib, just to prove it could be done by a woman. An old grouch friend of ours named Mayo Shaw, when told, said she didn't need to do that. "No one ever doubted the strength of a woman's jaw, Mayo said grumpily.

A nation wide hamburger chain announced a $500,000 sweepstakes. It turned out that the sweepstakes actually distributed only $12,000 in prizes. The Federal Trade Commission, noting that when sweepstakes numbers are distributed nationwide only a small percentage of people respond to them, said there was no misrepresentation involved since those familiar with such sweepstakes realize there will be only a small number who respond. Next time you get one of those letters saying you may have won $100,000, send it back, you don't have to buy anything, and you may throw the percentages off. The next half million sweepstakes might have to give $25,000.

In Spokane, Washington, a thief stole a calendar of nitrous oxide. That's the gas people call laughing gas. Police are looking for a laughing thief. If he tries to catch him, they intend to confuse him. It was no laughing matter.

Good news for barbers. All signs point to an end to the long hair fad. When you start seeing male mouse ears on TV game shows wearing their hair short, you may be sure that soon only the old fashioned, not with it, types will be wearing their hair long.

Modern homes are heated by electric heat and gas and few pots longer are heated the old fashioned way, coal. But with shortages, some say people may have to go back to the old way. That's all right. There's no fuel like an old fuel.

World Synod of Bishops to meet in 1974

VATICAN CITY, RNS — On the recommendation of a special council, Pope Paul VI has called a second Synod of Bishops for October 1974.

The Synod — the fourth since the close of Vatican II — is to discuss the regular holding of such conferences and their role in the evangelization of the contemporary world.

The Permanent Secretariat of the Synod of Bishops recommended to Pope Paul that planners set aside all the synods be held every three years instead of every two.

Under the present plan, which had been in force since the first synodal meeting in Rome in 1967, the periods between synods were two years.

The second Synod of Bishops was held in Rome in 1971 and the third in 1972.

Pope Paul, in a letter from Vatican Secretary of State Cardinal Jean Villot to accept the recommendations by the Bishops' Synod, and set the agenda for the fourth Synod of Bishops for October 1974.

The 1974 Synod would study the problems of the modern world involved and on questions of justice in the world.

The letter in which Cardinal Villot made known the Pope's agreement to holding the quadrennial session was dated February 7.

However, as in the session in the Vatican, the contents of the correspondence were not disclosed until the meeting. During it the bishops of the world, especially those from the east and west, would be able to hear the world news.

The Synod is actually a permanent council set up by the Church after the death of Pope Paul.

At the Synods, prelates gather as representatives of the bishops of the world to discuss many problems facing the Church at a time of rapid change.

The permanent secretariat of the Synod of Bishops was established in Rome soon after the Second Vatican Council to handle business of the Synod.

The Bishops Council of the Secretariat seeks out ideas on subjects to be discussed by the bishops at Synod sessions, the suggestions and then submits recommendations on an agenda to the Pontiff.

The Pontiff makes the final decisions on the topics to be discussed and also is free to accept or reject any recommendations a Synod participant makes on the floor.

It has been reported that the Permanent Synod Council has, in the past, been suggested to the Pope that the problems of the church in the modern world be discussed at the next Synod.

This was considered a touchy subject, however, as it would have opened the way for a full-scale discussion of birth control before the world's bishops.

The Pontiff has said several times that he considers the issue of birth control a closed one and that it is not a topic for open discussion among Catholic groups.

In his letter on behalf of the Pope, Cardinal Villot noted that "taking into account the desires of several episcopal conferences and in particular proposals made by the Council of the Secretariat of the Synod of Bishops, the Holy Father chose as the subject of the meeting the evangelization of the contemporary World."

The cardinal said that "faced with the difficulties of the present time the Synod Fathers will thus be called upon to study the most adequate ways to convey the salutary bringing message of Christ to all men on Earth."

To some Vatican observers the agenda seemed removed from the many controversies that face the church today.

I do not see how this particular topic can create too many arguments among the bishops of the world," said one source.

The delegates to the Synods are usually chosen by popular election from among their peers in episcopal conferences.

However, Pope Paul has in the past reserved the right to name his own personal representatives to the Synods and he also has named heads of the Roman Curia congregations as delegates to the deliberations.

World delegates join Australian Catholics at Eucharistic meet

MELBOURNE, Australia — The 40th International Eucharistic Congress has been held in Melbourne and thousands of delegates from all over the world have gone there to join Australians in devotion to the Eucharist.

The Eucharistic Congress is held every four years for the purpose of deepening devotion to the Sacrament of the Eucharist and the 1973 Congress was the first ever held in Australia. The last before it was held in 1968 in Bogota, Colombia, and Pope Paul attended.

Pope Paul was unable to attend the Australian Congress, but he sent as his papal legate Cardinal Lawrence Shehan of Baltimore, who opened the Congress by reading a message from Pope Paul.

Pope Paul, in his message emphasized that the Congress theme was that "God is love," as in John 13:34. "Love one another as I have loved you," should not be a pious platitude, some kind of universal love, but a love that is grounded in deeds and works.

The Congress opened in Melbourne's St. Patrick's Cathedral where 20,000 men and more than 100 bishops from all parts of the world crowded into the church with 5,000 others.

Cardinal Shehan in the sermon at Mass said the Eucharistic Congress was a test of faith and supplies us the grace to deepen and realize that faith.

Calling the Eucharist the motive that draws us on to the hope of one day among all those who bear the Christian name, Cardinal Shehan said there is a longing among us, a growing number of Christians of all denominations to share the Eucharist with each other. The Church, however, has restricted inter-Communion because of our disunity but in the hope that the desire for Eucharistic Communion will move us toward healing our disunity.

It was estimated that more than 100,000 people attended the events of the Eucharistic Congress. For a concelebrated Mass held at the Melbourne Cricket Grounds, there were more than 50,000 people, in attendance. Cardinal Shehan was the principal celebrant of the Mass but among the concelebrants were bishops and archbishops from Poland, Ireland, Italy, Portugal, England, Germany, Spain, Malta, Lebanon, Hong Kong, Mauritius, Yugoslavia, Indonesia and the Ordinariate of Lithuanians in Europe.

There were many members of the hierarchy of the United States present for the Eucharistic Congress. Among them were Cardinal John Cody of Chicago, Cardinal Terence Cooke of New York, Archbishop Leo Byrne of St. Paul-Minneapolis, Bishop Thomas Drury of Corpus Christi, Texas, Bishop Carroll Dozier of Memphis, Bishop Fabian Bruskewitz of Lincoln, Neb., Bishop Mark Hurley of Santa Rosa, California, Bishop Thomas Mardaga of Wilmington, Delaware, Bishop John Motherway of Galveston-Houston, Bishop Victor Oneckel of Rockford, Ill., Bishop John Sanchez of Hennessey, Oklahoma, Archbishop Archbishop Joseph McGucken of Philadelphia, Archbishop Joseph Marcantonio of Grand Rapids, Bishop Vincent Waschak of Grand Rapids, Bishop Albert Zuroweste of Belleville, Ill., Bishop Vincent Brizgys of Chicago, who resides in Lithuania, attended. Cardinal John Wright of America, who serves as prefect of the Vatican Congregation for the Clergy, also attended.

Cardinal Shehan was the center of the interest of the press during the Congress. He held an interview that the appointment to Pope Paul as his representative of the Congress was the greatest honor ever extended to any Catholic. Shehan remarked was toward reconciliation in the world of North. The cardinal was celebrant at the Mass on which bishops submit formal resignations — on March 14.

He answered many questions of newsmen. Of the Vatican and Soviet President Nixon as a man of consequence. He has done what he believes to be the right thing regarding the war and bringing about peace in Vietnam. I found it difficult to understand the brass bombings. I still do. But President Nixon has brought about the peace and for this we should all be grateful.

He called the U.S. Supreme Court decision liberalizing the nation's abortion laws a very great tragedy. He said that many Europe in the U.S. was struggling as best it could against the court's decision.

PHILANTHROPY IS AN EDUCATIONAL PROCESS

The shortage is not the lack of money. There is no shortage of money to do God's work. However, people do not respond to what they do not understand. The approach to philanthropy should inculcate the educational processes. Our management consultant team will study your needs and design a program to increase your philanthropic support through the application of the science of modern fund-raising.

Philanthropy is gripped by social ferment and change. The needs of America's charitable organizations are rapidly rising. The "Philanthropic Gap" is estimated to exceed $50 billion by 1975. These significant trends call for the most competent fund-raising counsel. Write or call us collect.
